* The tax lists grouped under "Unknown date" apparently include several years, given the appearance of some names and Captain's districts more than once. Known death dates from estate and other records: George Cherry (same page as Eliza Shiver) about 1835; James Cherry about 1838; John M. Vass 1819; Jordan Anderson about 1823; Abraham Shiver about 1844; David Fitzgerald about 1831.

There are gaps in the years for which tax lists are available and many of them are incomplete or contain errors, e.g., may not show County, District and/or Lot number (assumed to be Pulaski unless stated otherwise), may show a lot in a different district than previously reported or a single lot number as placeholder for acreage exceeding what was contained in a whole lot (202.5 acres). Males age 21 to 60 were subject to a poll (head) tax, regardless of whether they owned land; white females paid no poll tax but paid taxes for slaves, land, and other valuables subject to taxation.

[3] Jordan and Mary Anderson were the parents of John J. Anderson and the grandparents of Mary Ann Anderson, who married George Shiver; George was the son of Abraham Shiver. George and Mary Ann's 1838 estates were administered by John J. Anderson though a caveat was entered by George's brother Bonaparte. The final estate settlement distributed the slaves solely amongst the Andersons, suggesting that they came to George through marriage.

[4] A Levin Metts was living with Daniel Heath in 1850 and was also found in early records of Washington Co. where Daniel was living, suggesting a possible connection. This is the only tax record found for him in Pulaski and his appearance on the Defaulters list may just indicate he'd moved out of the county.

[5] Elizabeth Haddock and James Newman administered the Pulaski Co. estate of Wm Haddock in the early 1820s; John Newman's family was in Pulaski by the late 1820s but I have thus far found no records to suggest that James was related to my Newmans and he was said to be a resident of Washington Co. in an 1826 Superior Court declaration.

[6] Fitzgerald and Spence: David was probably the brother of John Fitzgerald of Irwin Co., whose daughter Sarah married Nat Statham, son of Nathaniel. David's will names sons Baldwin and John, and Bluford Spence was his son-in-law. I believe David's son is the John Fitzgerald who married Sarah Statham, Nathaniel's daughter, in Irwin Co. in 1825.

[7] I believe that Hillery Newman was John Newman's illegitimate half-brother. He was born in Sampson Co. NC in about 1790 per his army enlistment but was probably the illegitimate child of Sarah Newman referenced in 1787 Sampson Co. court minutes (record does not give the name or gender of the child). Hillery was found in 1830 Houston Co. along with Edward Newman (b 1776-1780), probably John's full brother based on 1805 and 1813 Sampson Co. court minutes in which John, Edward and William Newman were assigned to the same river crew, an indication they were from the same or neighboring households.

[8] Abe Newman, son of Arthur, married Mollie, daughter of William D. and Lucinda (Vass) Conner. William D.'s precise relationship to the other Conners has not yet been determined but Lots 145 and 84 connect him to James Conner Sr.; and Bryant Conner, living with William in 1860, connects him to James Jr. William was also named as Exr in James Jr.'s will (from court minutes, will has not been found) and shown as Exr for both James Conners on tax lists.

[9] Shiver and Cherry: Abraham Shiver's daughter Canzada married Arthur, son of John Newman. Canzada was previously married to James P. Cherry.

[10] James Statham was likely the son of Nathaniel Statham, and like Nathaniel, he's found in Irwin Co. records though he is intermittently found in Pulaski as well.

[11] Elizabeth Vass was the probable mother of Uriah Vass and of Lucinda Vass, who married William D. Conner. John M. Vass seems the likeliest candidate for Uriah's father.
